Alessia Antinori has Restored Her Grandfathers' Estate

About a year ago, I visited Alessia Antinori at the Fiorano estate just outside of Rome. The estate has been in disrepair since the death of her grandfather, Alberico Boncompagni Ludovisi, prince of Venosa. For the fascinating background to this story and how Alessia and her two sisters came into possession of half of the estate see “Fiorano Wine Estate in Italy Making a Comeback” [2] by Eric Asimov in the New York Times

When I visited Alessia had just began to restore the property and it looked like she had a long way to go

The Vines

[7]

Wine and food are the best combination. In Italy, they are used to drink wine with food. The wine is not just a drink, it is a part of the culture. The wine is not just a drink, it is a part of the culture. The wine is not just a drink, it is a part of the culture.
